ALCA Operations Manual

The Alabama Counseling Association (ALCA) Operations Manual (formerly Policies and Procedure Manual) was developed over time by the three ALCA Executive Directors. The purpose was to record common procedures and best means learned throughout its history to assist in following the ALCA bylaws [website].

Alabama Counseling Association (ALCA)

The Alabama Counseling Association (ALCA) is a state branch of the American Counseling Association (ACA) organized by ACA as a part of its Southern Region (ACA-SR). Serving as a dynamic network of professional counselors in the State of Alabama, ALCA is devoted to the professional development and maintenance of high standards for those involved in the counseling profession. ALCA membership currently includes over 2000 professionals.

The ALCA Executive Office

Location

Alabama Counseling Association
P.O. Box 131425
Birmingham, AL 35213-1425
Phone: 205-423-5989
Fax: 205-423-5947
Email: alca@alabamacounseling.org
Website: www.alabamacounseling.org

Purpose

The office functions as the primary center for Association business and activities. It also serves as the records and archives depository for the Association. The Executive Director maintains the continuity of the organization from year to year.

History

Since its inception in 1966, one of the stated objectives of the Association was to establish a central office and staff to maintain the continuity of the organization and to insure an efficient, effective operation of activities. In 1986, Dr. Wilbur Tincher was chosen as the Association's first executive secretary.

Upon his retirement in 1991, Dr. Ervin L. (Chip) Wood was named the Association's second Executive Secretary and the office was moved to Livingston. In 2000, the title of Executive Secretary was changed to Executive Director. Under Dr. Woods' guidance, the association flourished as he fostered growth in membership, activities, and financial status. Lin Wood was added as administrative staff.

Dr. Nancy Fox was named to replace Chip and Lin Wood upon their retirement in 2017. She is the Association's first female Executive Director. Dr. Fox began work on January 1, 2018 and the office was relocated to its present location in Birmingham. In July, 2018, Bonnie Lorino was added as administrative staff.

Philosophy

The Executive Director's office is the central office for the Association serving as the main facilitator of the Association's activities, primarily run through the contributing efforts of individuals. The central office staff are part-time and are committed to the counseling profession serving to help ALCA be effective and viable.

The Executive Director believes the strength of the organization is its members. She organizes, coordinates, & maintains continuity for counselors to have a viable presence statewide.

The Association's central office is highly organized resulting in effectiveness and efficiency. Personnel and resources are limited. Staff are members of the Association who serve to care about people and the Association.

Office Staff

The Executive Office includes the Executive Director and an administrative assistant. The Executive Director is the conscience and stabilizing influence of ALCA with experience in education, counseling, and ALCA procedures, protocol, and issues.

Executive Director

The office of the Executive Secretary was created by the Association on 1986 to facilitate the operations of the Association's activities.

Dr. Wilbur Tincher was selected as the first Executive Secretary. He served from 1986 till January, 1992, when Dr. Ervin L. (Chip) Wood was named Association Executive upon Dr. Tincher's retirement. The state office was moved to the University of West Alabama (UWA) campus in Livingston at that time. In 2000, the title of the position was changed to Executive Director. The office was also moved from the UWA campus, but remained in Livingston.

In January, 2018, the office moved to Birmingham, Alabama when Dr. Nancy J. Fox became the Executive Director. The Executive Director's position is part-time and the success ALCA has is through hard work and diligence.

The Executive Director is the one constant element in the Association. The role is to provide consistency within our framework of professional volunteers. The Executive Director is a facilitator to help Association members carry out the work of the Association. The Executive Director facilitates the work of the Association, its officers, and its members. Dr. Fox, along with administrative aide, Bonnie Lorino, operate the ALCA office.

The Executive Director shall:

The central office operates on a total budget of approximately $75,000 including all salaries, support for which it has to pay, and operational expenses. This figure represents approximately 30% of the Association's total budget. According to industry standards, normal administrative overhead for an organization would run 50-75% of the total budget. ALCA is able to hold administrative costs to a minimum. [Appendix N] [Appendix O]

Operation

  - End of the Year Membership Report
  - End of the Year Financial Report

Other items included in the storage of archives include but are not limited to the following:

- Journal issues are archived online on the website and in storage
- Additional Historic Archival Material
- Materials currently held which do not fit the guidelines above will be reviewed by President, current Historian, Past-President, and President-Elect to determine if they should be kept for the Archives

APPENDIX B: Interest Section/Division Formation Guidelines

The bylaws require that a petition be submitted to the executive council for approval of the formation of an interest section (there should be an interest section before there can be a division). This petition must contain the names and signatures of at least 50 members who are regular/professional members and who have expressed an interest in being a member of the proposed group.

Interest sections must function within the bylaws, policies and procedures of the Association. There is no defined structure prescribed, however. For example, an interest section could have a chair and co-chair rather than a full slate of officers. These leaders may attend state EC meetings and participate in a non-voting status. An interest section may decide to pursue division status or choose to remain an interest section indefinitely.

For those seeking to become a division, during the interest section status, bylaws should be drafted that are in agreement with the state and national organizations as well as the national division. These preliminary bylaws must be reviewed by the ALCA parliamentarian for approval prior to the section moving to division status.

The state bylaws give the EC power to revoke or grant a section recognition based upon the rules it establishes. While nothing specific has ever been established as “rules”, the recent petitioners for division status have been required to meet restrictions regarding number of members and financial sustainability (could it provide member services such as workshops, newsletters, etc.) It was after one of these petitions that the bylaws were amended to require interest sections before seeking division status.

The bylaws do not require any specific period of time required before an interest section may petition for division status, but logically a reason amount of time should transpire so that the viability of the section may be confirmed. It would take at a minimum one meeting cycle-optimally longer. But, for example, if the petition to form an interest section was presented at one meeting, it could then be voted on at the next meeting and then at the third meeting a petition for division recognition could then be presented. This timeline assumes the interest section is moving at a fast pace.

Interest groups are encouraged to contact national division leaders to find the availability of startup grants. Such funding would insure financial resources until membership dues begin coming in.

The primary operational units of ALCA are the Chapters and Divisions through which contact and reminders are provided to the membership.

Members of both editorial boards shall serve three-year terms, excepting the initial term for which a rotation system has been established. The Publication Committee will seek candidates from each of the Divisions/Chapters/Affiliates who are qualified and willing to serve. From this pool of applicants, the committee will select, for recommendation to the Executive Council, the persons considered best qualified for editorial board positions. The Executive Council retains authority of appointment of editorial board members. The Publications Committee may seek the help of ALCA President-Elect and the Division and Chapter Presidents-elect in nominating suitable candidates for existing board vacancies.

Board members are offered three year terms, beginning on May 1 of a given year and ending on April 30 three years later. The respective editor may ask the Publications Committee to consider requesting the resignation of any board member who does not meet timeliness or provide adequate reviews. In such an event, the Publications Committee will recommend to the Executive Council that the board member be relieved of his/her duties. If this action is approved, the Publications Committee may appoint an acting division representative to the vacated editorial position until applicants can be properly solicited.

The prime function of the editorial boards is to assist in determining the content of the publications. Members of the Journal board will solicit manuscripts, read and evaluate manuscripts submitted, work with writers in the development of materials, and make recommendations as appropriate.

Special Issues Editions or Sections:

The Journal of the Alabama Counseling Association and its national sister publication enjoy a rich history of publishing issues devoted to special topics of concern to the counseling profession. With this tradition in mind, care must be taken that the Journal of the Alabama Counseling Association continues to be a publication that represents the interests of the entire membership of the association and is based on manuscript submissions that are evaluated by the editor and members of the editorial board. Therefore, the editor(s) and editorial board will consider requests for special issues and/or sections but will not be compelled by a preponderance of manuscripts submitted on a particular topic. When the editor(s) receives a request for special issues or sections of the ALCA Journal, such requests will be reviewed for appropriateness and timeliness by the editor in consultation with the Publications Committee. The Publications Committee will seek to insure that special issues printings of the Journal have broad application to counselors in all settings. In order to insure equity of response by the ALCA Executive Council to divisions' request for support for legislative activities, a motion is made to adopt the statement entitled "Criteria for Determining ALCA Response to Requests for Legislative Support" which reads as follows:

  - membership in ALCA of the sponsoring/requesting Division shall be ascertained
  - percentage of the Division's budget being allocated to support Divisional issues will be reviewed
  - current status of the operation budget and the reserve account of ALCA shall be considered

APPENDIX G: Government Relations

Alabama Counseling Association Legislative Network

Each ALCA member is a vital link in the chain of counseling services available to Alabama citizens. It is imperative that we make the public and the legislature aware of our efforts.

The objective of the ALCA Legislative Network is to have at least one ALCA member acquainted with and in regular contact with each Alabama Legislator.

In order to be the strongest link possible, each member needs to:

- stay informed about current trends and issues which affect our profession
- know his/her state and federal legislators
- be known to his/her state and federal legislators
- keep legislators informed about what matters to the counseling professional and his/her clients.

The Executive Council of the Alabama Counseling Association has authorized funding for the Alabama Legislative Reading and Research Service. This vital resource helps the volunteer members of the governmental and professional relations committee represent your views. However, it is the grassroots movement that influences legislation. Members of the legislature and congress want to hear the views of the constituents.

Call your legislators. Know their names and be able to recognize them should you see them in or around your community. Your goal is to provide a support network so the member of the legislature knows who to call concerning counseling issues.

ALCA Legislative Networker Tasks:

Call State senator and representative to schedule an appointment.

At the meeting:

Establish rapport-be clear about the fact that you are a constituent of the legislator; find out about the legislator's family, friends, interests, etc.; look for common ground.

Provide information on-talk about the roles/goals of professional counseling in general and your work setting in particular.

Specify/clarify-talk to the current issues/concerns relevant to your professional work setting and to our profession in general i.e., number of school counselors units in the education budget; concern about ALAMFT'S attempts to duplicate the role of the Alabama Board of Examiners in Counseling by establishing an ALAMFT Board.

Invite the legislator to call you if he/she has any concerns/questions about counseling and assure him/her that you will do the same.

Keep the meeting short, but take the time to say what needs to be said. Be organized as to points you wish to make and have printed materials to share with you.

YOUR REAL GOAL IS TO MAKE A FRIEND WHO WILL WANT YOUR OPINION IN THE FUTURE AND WILL KEEP YOU INFORMED ABOUT HIS/HER OPINIONS.

The chair of the governmental and professional relations committee is in constant contact with the members of the legislature as well as our support services. The committee only acts on behalf of the Association once the executive council has approved an item for the legislative agenda.

The governmental and professional relations committee issues a monthly newsletter of legislative activities during the state legislative session. The committee may also contact certain subsets of the association membership to provide immediate contact to a particular legislative member.

Influencing the activities of government and the legislature are an imprecise science at best. Often immediate action is needed. If you are contacted to make a call on behalf of the Association, do so immediately. The Association may only have a day to get its opinion known.

APPENDIX H: Legalese

The “ALCA Legalese” program is an excellent legal advice service available to ALCA members. It is intended as a member service which provides the latest information on the legal aspects of situations to our members. ALCA members may call the Association’s legal counsel and ask him questions which pertain to the individual’s situation and which he/she may be encountering. Legal Council will advise of legal aspects, implications and possible courses of action.

“Legalese” is an advisory service. The ALCA legal Counsel will advise members of the scope of the service and will apprise members should he reach a point where advice/representation beyond the scope of regular service is needed. Legal Counsel will not “take on” as a client an ALCA who can reasonably be traced to “Legalese”. Legal counsel will not perform legal services for members. He will in any event always act in the best interest of the Association.

Access to “Legalese” is limited to active members. Legal Counsel will confirm membership before providing services to an ALCA client.

In addition to providing services for “Legalese”, the legal counsel will service as the legal advocate/representative for the ALCA. He will provide those services outlined in the following agreement until such time as it is voided or amended.

APPENDIX I: Insurance

The ALCA holds comprehensive Insurance coverage including:

- Officers and Directors coverage--protects officers and directors in the functions of their duties; coverage also available to the chapters and divisions
- General Coverage-- protects ALCA in the event of an accident, e.g., an injury at the Annual Conference
- Property Coverage--protects the property of the Association located in Birmingham
- Honesty Bond--protects ALCA in the event of misuse of Association funds should occur
- Event Insurance—protects ALCA in case of financial loss from conference
(ALCA's general coverage is provided by Harper and Associates of Mobile, AL)

ALCA also offers personal liability insurance to its members through an arrangement with ACA. Information about member Liability Insurance may be obtained by contacting the ALCA office.

APPENDIX J: Counselor Locator Service

A listing on the ALCA website which offers the opportunity for clients to identify counselors by geographic area and practice. This service was developed with the cooperation and support of the Executive Council and was timed to coincide with the radio advertising campaign which the ALCA has conducted.

Email the ALCA office at nancy@alabamacounseling.org your credentials, location, contact information, and type services you provide so that we may add you to the service.

APPENDIX K: Postal Service

The postal regulations specifically deny subordinate groups of an association the use of a permit granted to the parent organization. Postal Service Form #s623 states that no subordinate group may use the parent organization's postal permit.

"An authorization to mail at an additional mailing office will only be granted to the specific organization currently authorized to mail at the special rates at the original office. For example, an additional mailing authorization will not be granted to a local chapter of a national (parent) organization if the original was granted to the national (parent) organization."

If a chapter or division wishes to obtain a postal permit, they must apply for a non-profit mailing permit. Chapters and divisions individually do not have a tax exempt status; therefore, they do not qualify for the permit without applying to the IRS and obtaining a separate tax exempt status for each chapter and division.

The Executive Director's office in conjunction with the Postal Service and the Association's accountant follow the policy that Chapters or Divisions may not use the Association's mailing permit to mail its newsletters, etc.

Chapters and Divisions must send mail through the postal service at current postal rates.

APPENDIX M: Alabama Board of Examiners in Counseling

Alabama Counseling Association
Code of Alabama
1975
1984 Cumulative Supplement
Annotated
Volume 18
Chapter A
Counselors

34-A-4: Board of examiners in counseling-Creation; composition; qualifications; appointment; vacancies; annual report.

There is hereby created an Alabama Board of Examiners in counseling, hereinafter referred to as the board, to consist of seven members who shall be appointed by the governor under the conditions hereinafter set forth.

Within 30 days from July 18, 1979, the executive committee of the Alabama Association for Counseling and Development shall submit to the governor a list of qualified candidates for the board; said list shall contain names of at least four citizens from the general public; four qualified counselor educators; and six qualified practicing counselors from which the governor within 60 days, will select the board consisting of two citizens for the general public; two counselor educators; and three counselors in private practice. A minimum of one of those counselors must be a marriage and family counselor certified by the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapists.

The initial appointments to the board shall be for the following terms: The term of two members is one year, the term of two members is two years, the term of three members is three years.

The professional membership of the board authorized under this section shall be licensed under this chapter, except that the initial professional members shall be members who have been rendering the private practice of counseling services for at least one year, or who have been giving instruction in counseling in a regionally accredited institution of higher learning for at least three years.

Said board shall perform such duties and exercise such powers as this chapter prescribes and confers upon it. No member of the board shall be liable to civil action for any act performed in good faith for the performance of his duty as set forth in this chapter.

Board members shall be ineligible for reappointment for a period of three years following completion of their terms. Subsequent appointments to the board shall be made by the governor in the following manner: Not later than October 1, each year the executive committee of the Alabama Association for Counseling and Development shall submit to the governor the names of two qualified candidates for the position on the board to be vacated by reason of expiration of term of office. From the two candidates the governor shall appoint one member not later than

January 1, to serve on the board for a term of five years. Other vacancies occurring in the board shall be filled for the unexpired term by appointment of the governor from two candidates for each such vacancy submitted within 30 days after the vacancy occurs by the executive committee of the Alabama Association for Counseling and Development. Such appointments shall be made within 30 days after the candidates' names have been submitted. Any board members may be removed by the governor, after notice and hearing, for incompetence, neglect of duty, malfeasance in office or morale turpitude. Composition of the board shall always consist of two citizens, two counselor educators and three counselors in gender, racial and ethnic origins and the different levels of graduate and professional degrees and specialty represented in Alabama Association for Counseling and Development, though not all such differences necessarily will be reflected at the same time in board membership. A college or university shall have only one representative, faculty or staff, as a member of the board at any one time.

Immediately and before entering public duties of said office, the members of the board shall take the constitutional oath of office and shall file same in the office of governor, who upon receiving said oath of office shall issue to each member a certificate of appointment. The board shall have available for the governor or his representative detailed reports on proceedings and shall make annual reports in such form as required by the governor. (Acts 1979, No. 79-423, p. 649,4)

Note: Possible members of the Licensure Board are nominated by the ALCA professional Standards Committee to the Governor. He then chooses his nominees and sends these names to the state Senate for certification.

APPENDIX N: Financial Procedures

The ALCA Annual Budget disperses funds to three major areas of work:

- Officers and committees
- Annual Conference
- Executive Director/ALCA office

Financial procedures for the Association have become somewhat more formalized as the Association has grown. The ALCA's current assets are excess of $200,000; therefore, thorough financial procedures are required for administration. Realizing this, in 1993, the Association moved to consolidate financial records of the institution at the state office with the Executive Director. The Executive Director's role in this operation is as the administrator for finances. Both the President of the Association and the Treasurer remain involved in the financial process of the Association. All procedures ultimately report to the Executive Council.

The ALCA is a 501 (c) (3) non-profit corporation as defined by the IRS. This means that the ALCA is exempt from paying income tax at both the state and federal level. This classification does not exempt the ALCA from paying sales taxes in Alabama. Most associations pay sales taxes. The list of associations is small. It takes a special act of the Alabama Legislature to exempt an organization. ALCA is not a sales tax exempt organization. The effort and expense required to obtain this exemption are greater than the end benefit. ALCA has chosen to pay the sales tax.

The following represents steps and procedures important to the financial operation of the Association:

The Budget and Finance Committee of the Association is comprised of: the president, president-elect, past president, executive director, and treasurer who serves as chair.

These individuals are more or less responsible for the coordination of the financial activities of the Association.

The annual budget for the Association is prepared prior to the Spring Retreat by the Budget Committee chaired by the Treasurer. This budget is formulated with information from the Executive Council members and the expertise and experience of the members of the Committee. This budget is in turn presented to the Executive Council at the Spring Retreat for approval.

The person(s) responsible for each work area will submit a written budget proposal to the ALCA Budget & Finance Committee prior to Spring Retreat, preferably immediately following the Winter Executive Council Meeting.

The Budget & Finance Committee will submit the total budget to the Executive Council at its Spring Retreat Business Meeting for approval.

Each work area will be funded as income allows and each person responsible for a portion of the budget will be expected to manage that area within that budgeted amount unless the Executive Council approves additional funds.

The person(s) responsible for administering a portion of the budget will provide a written financial report at each Executive Council meeting.

Once the budget has been approved it is then entered into the data system at the Executive Director's office and ledger entries of the financial transactions are recorded by the Executive Director and his staff.

The ALCA Annual Budget total expenditure allowance will be based on the average of actual income from the past five years.

Procedure:

The Budget & Finance Committee of the current year will meet immediately after the Winter Executive Council Meeting to determine this amount. The incoming Executive Council will be informed of this spending cap for its year in office.

Checks that are to be written on a normal and periodic basis are written by the Executive Director as a matter of course. The Executive Director will need the President's signed approval only for unbudgeted items, but not to pay salaries or buy supplies, equipment or other items already approved and in the budget. Unbudgeted or unusual expenditures of the Association must be approved by the Treasurer and President and/or Executive Council as appropriate.

Approval of expenditures is made through the use of an authorized payment authorization form available from the Executive Director's office. Payment of expenses should not be made without appropriate approval.

Only authorized individuals, i.e., members of the Executive Council and/or the Annual Conference Committee authorized to do so should purchase items for the Association. The Association may issue either purchase orders or members who are authorized to make purchases may make the purchases and pay for the purchase themselves and then be reimbursed with the presentation of the invoice and payment authorization. They may also charge to the Association and have the bills sent directly to them and in turn submit a payment authorization, and the payment will be sent directly to the vendor.

Only expenditures authorized within the budget should be incurred. Only individuals who are members of the Council or the Annual Conference Committee and have been given definitive authority to do so should incur expenses in behalf of the Association. Only the President can give signed approval for transfer of funds from one account/fund to another. The President must give approval for any expenditure over $100 when spent except in the case of the administration of the regular budget by the Executive Director's office.

Any questions about how to proceed with financial transactions should be directed to the President, Treasurer or Executive Director.

The President, Treasurer, and Executive Director are responsible for overseeing and approving the financial transactions of the Association.

It is not generally possible to ask for a check immediately on the receipt of an invoice because approvals generally have to be obtained.

The Executive Director may act in emergency situations but generally this will be done in consultation with the President and the Treasurer.

The ALCA will maintain reserve/special funds/accounts separate from its operating budget which cannot be considered as operating income. These funds cannot generally be transferred to operations without the approval of the Executive Council.

The ALCA Annual Budget should place a percentage of its total in a reserve account on a feasible, regular basis throughout the year. Twenty-five percent would be good to strive for in order to meet the 50% goal by 2000.

The ALCA Annual Conference expenditures should not exceed the amount allocated in the Annual Budget without prior approval of the Executive Council.

To consider:

- any special event tied in with the Annual Conference must be self supporting financially. ALCA cannot subsidize chapter/division events
- graduate students should pay to attend the Annual Conference at the same rate they pay membership dues
- a complete financial report of Annual Conference income and expenditures will be presented to the Executive Council at its Winter Meeting
- ALCA Executive /ALCA Office will be managed by the Executive Director within the boundaries of the approved budget
- Executive Director will have full authority to administer the ALCA Office budget and process all budgeted items
- Chapter/division presidents will be instructed at the Spring Retreat as to what are reasonable services to be provided by the ALCA Office.
- Chapters/divisions desiring additional services will be told at the time of the request if they are possible and what the cost will be. Special mailings, printings, events, will be paid for by the chapter or division requesting the service. ALCA will not be responsible for expenses incurred in these activities.

ALCA will in general be responsible for the Executive director's travel expenses related to work including attendance at appropriate ALCA, SRBA and ACA, and other business related activities and events.

The Executive Director has been authorized to maintain certain investments with brokerage firms or other investment groups. Such investments will follow sound investment practices.

Beginning in 2004 and occurring once every three years thereafter, the Budget and Finance Committee will review the ALCA dues structure using the Producer Price Index (PPI), as supplied by the American Counseling Association to determine what dues should be charged to the membership and to revise them accordingly. This triennial review will occur automatically but will not be interpreted to exclude interim or additional action in the event it is needed. (Note: this is the method used and endorsed by ACA).

Authorized Expenditures

In general, the Association does not pay individual expenses for individuals unless those expenses are specifically approved in the budget, i.e., president's expenses for a trip to the national convention, SRBA, etc. Usually meals and travel expenses for travel will not otherwise be paid. Officers traveling specifically in their role with the ALCA may be paid expenses so long as this is an expense solely by the individual officer. Such expense must not exceed the line item allotted for that officer's expense for year. Expenses for elected officers will not be paid if other members are expected to pay their own way (example to Executive Council meetings or chapter/division meetings unless going in official role as officer).

When questions regarding appropriateness of expenses may occur, the President, Treasurer, and Executive Director will be the defining authorities in terms of approval. Operational expenses for members of the Executive Council, Annual Conference Committee may in general be paid. These include postage, telephone calls, printing, etc. so long as an invoice is obtained and submitted for reimbursement.

In general all expenses for the Executive Director and his staff, including travel, meals, etc., will be paid as they are incurred. These are considered employee business expenses. Cost of living increases/raises afforded state school counselors shall also be afforded the executive director and staff.

The Association now is financially solid and has limited investments. Investment decisions should be made only with consultation by the President, Treasurer, Executive Director, Budget Committee and when appropriate, the Executive Council itself. In general the Association will take a conservative approach to investments, generally involving only risk free C.D.'s or low risk stocks/bonds.

The Association has now established an endowment fund. Contributions are being solicited. At the May, 1995, Spring Retreat the Association voted to transfer a $10 vendor transaction fee annually from the Annual Conference ads and exhibits income to the endowment fund as a method of increasing the account. Endowment expenditures will be made only in accordance with proper Association Management policies.

The Executive Director is the keeper of the Association's assets and accounts. He and his staff will be bonded with an appropriate security bond.

The Executive Director will have discretion regarding the operation of the Executive office so as to facilitate the most efficient operation possible.

Any questions regarding financial practices of the Association should be referred to the Executive Director, Treasurer, or President for resolution. When in doubt please ask questions. Do not do something and then later try to figure out how to resolve it.

Financial Records Maintenance

Financial records of the ALCA will be kept in accordance with normal and accepted business record-keeping principles recommended by the IRS, our CPA and other non-profit organizations. These principles will be determined by the Executive Director under the guidance of the ALCA Budget Committee. Practical guidance will dictate that records will be kept as long as they can reasonably be expected to be needed and after that they will be destroyed. In simple terms, this shall translate to keeping end-of-year budget summary reports and IRS 990s indefinitely. Normal documentation of transactions shall be kept for 7-10 years then destroyed unless there is some foreseeable reason for doing otherwise. Reason and flexibility should be watchwords in this process.

APPENDIX O: IRS/Taxes

The Alabama Counseling Association's relationship with the Internal Revenue Service is a very interesting and sensitive one because of our status as a non-profit organization. The answers to the following commonly asked questions have been formulated for information and instruction:

We are defined as a 501(c)(3) organization by IRS. This classifies us as an association organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational purpose...As a 501 (c)(3) organization we are required to :

- be organized and operated for a tax exempt purpose
- no part of the net earning of the organization can be used to the benefit of a private stock holder or individual and
- no substantial part of the organization's activities are intended to influence legislation and the organization does not participate or intervene in any political campaign on behalf of or in opposition to any candidate for public office; the organization operates as a common law charity.

As a 501(c)(3) we are able to count contributions to the association as contributions.

As long as we continue to file the IRS 990's Form, we will probably never have a problem with 501(c)(3), but it is important to know that associations have come under a great deal of scrutiny because of their political activities and there is the possibility that we could be called to question because we have entered an area where we are doing lobbying activities.

The Alabama Counseling Association as a 501(c) organization is required to file form 990 since our gross receipts exceed $50,000. This form is filed annually by the state ALCA.

None of the state chapters or divisions have a 501(c) status; therefore, none of them are required to or should they be filing a form 990 because having any of the chapters or divisions filing a form 990 individually presents a problem to the state association because there has been confusion with IRS over how those organizations fit into ALCA. No chapter or division is required to file unless they have income more than $25,000 per year and in no case would they be required to file if they are covered under state ALCA's form 990. In our case they are.

The confusion and problems that we have had with IRS in the past apparently were caused because one or more of our divisions has been filing a 990 thinking they were doing the right thing when they were not. This became particularly confusing because that particular division and apparently other chapters and divisions are using the tax exempt identification number assigned to the Alabama Counseling Association.

It is okay for chapters or divisions to use the state association's tax exempt organization number on their bank accounts, etc., as long as the chapters and divisions understand that it is the Association's number and that their financial transactions have to be reported as part of the Association's annual financial statement. Again, under no circumstances should the chapter and division file a separate form 990 with the Internal Revenue Service because everyone is using the same number.

The ALCA accountant has suggested that the Association should file filing a group tax return and cover all of our chapters and divisions. If we were to ask each chapter and division to file separately, each would have to apply for tax exemption rather than be covered under the group exemption. The exemption application is a rather onerous task. Needing the status would be true even if they do not pass the $25,000 threshold.

The accountant has designed a standard form which is be sent to each of the chapters and divisions in May following the completion of the fiscal year and then each chapter and division would simply return that form to the state office and the accountant will then compile a group form. Since all of the chapters and divisions have treasurers this should be fairly simple to do. The accountant has indicated that, if we fail to get a report from a particular chapter or division, we would simply not include them in the total for the year.

The accountant has called to my attention that all 501(c) organizations (as we are) are restricted in using a substantial part of our activities and funds for lobbying purposes. We also are restricted from participating in any political campaign. Our accountant has cautioned that we must be very careful in the area of lobbying because even as a tax exempt organization there is the very real possibility that lobbying expenditures could become subject to taxation if they are substantial. It appears that the rule of thumb is that no more than 20% of the association's budget could be spent in this area. We do not appear to have a problem in this area.

The ALCA does not have an exemption from sales tax in Alabama. It would take an act of legislature to receive such status. This amount is not substantial.

APPENDIX P: Membership Information Access

Policy. The Executive Director is authorized to release membership lists and labels to various ALCA affiliates and to commercial and non-profit organizations for uses which are appropriate to the professional needs and interests of members of ALCA, its Chapters and Divisions. (Computer accessible lists will not be made available to non-ALCA entities). These opportunities will include job offerings, professional development workshops and conferences, professional publications, and institutional research.

Procedure. Requests shall be submitted in writing to the Executive Director stating the intended use of the information. Requestors shall sign an affidavit stating that the membership list/labels requested will be used only for the purpose stated it/they will not be released to any unauthorized source. Upon approval of the Executive Director and receipt of full payment in advance, the list/labels may be released.

Cost. Rates of access will be reasonable and shall be determined by the Executive Director.

APPENDIX Q: Awards and Resolutions

Solicitation and collection of nominations with support data may begin May 1. Determination of the Chapter/Division Outstanding Member Awards may be prior to May 1, possibly at the last Chapter/Division meeting before May 1. Procedures for the awards process need to be emphasized on an ongoing basis.

The ALCA State Awards and Resolutions Chairs shall:

- solicit the names and addresses of the Chapter/Division/Affiliate Awards Chairs from the Presidents by June 1 or soon thereafter. If no Chapter/Division/Affiliate Awards Chair is named by June 30, the Chapter/Division/Affiliate President shall assume responsibility for the Chapter/Division/Affiliate awards process. These Chapter/Division/Affiliate Awards Chairs will be members, for one year of the ALCA State Awards and Resolutions Committee.

A formal Awards Booklet will be given to the incoming President or Awards Chair of each Chapter/Division/Affiliate during the ALCA Spring Retreat or via email no later than July 15th.

Chapter/Division/Affiliate award chairs are ultimately responsible to solicit nominations from their own membership. ALCA awards chairs will disseminate information regarding the awards process to the general membership as deemed appropriate.

In order to be nominated, nominees shall be limited to the membership of the Alabama Counseling Association except as allowed by specific awards.

A nominee may be considered for multiple awards but shall only be allowed one nomination per award. Chapters/Divisions/Affiliates may cooperate to submit a joint nomination for an award. Chapters/Divisions/Affiliates choosing to coordinate must submit only one nomination form and support data for the same nominee for a specific award. This documentation shall reflect that multiple chapters/divisions coordinated for this nomination.

Chapters/Divisions/Affiliates who submit duplicate nominations for the same nominee will be notified and the nomination packets must be re-submitted as a co-nomination before the stated deadline. State Awards Chair shall not be responsible for creating one unified packet.

To prevent unfair advantage, the current ALCA President and President-Elect shall be excluded from awards nominations during the years they serve in those capacities. Additionally, winners of the Jean Cecil, Wilbur Tincher, Fannie Cooley, Distinguished Professional Service, and Outstanding Practitioner awards may not be re-nominated for the same award they won for at least 5 years from the year in which the award was won. It will be the responsibility of the nominator to determine if a selected nominee for any of these awards has won that award in the past 5 years. Information will be available via the ALCA website-based award archive file.

The State Awards and Resolutions Committee shall establish deadlines for the submission of all materials related to nominations. These deadlines will be disseminated by the Chapter/Division Awards Chair to the general membership through communicative channels as deemed appropriate. No materials may be considered for nomination after the deadline. The deadline for nomination forms and supporting material should be postmarked to the ALCA State Awards and Resolutions Chair (hereafter referred to as Deadline #1). The deadline will be determined by the committee, but will not be later than September 15.

Except for the President's Awards, Deadline #1 will be the deadline for Chapter/Division Awards Chairs to postmark resolutions for deceased or retiring members and nomination forms with completed data, including nominations for all awards. The ALCA State Awards and Resolutions Chair will not accept any nominations for consideration that are postmarked later than Deadline #1.

The ALCA State Awards and Resolutions Chair will make nomination materials available for the committee members to view/evaluate by their approved deadline.

Rating sheets (from the official Awards Booklet) for each award will be included in the nomination materials made available to each committee member. These forms are to be filled in completely and submitted to the ALCA State Awards and Resolutions Chair by the pre-approved deadline which will be no later than three weeks prior to the start of the Annual Conference. These rating sheets will be reviewed and tallied as a committee prior to the Annual Conference to determine the final award recipients.

Except for the Chapter and Division Outstanding Member Award and the Recognition of Deceased or Retiring Members, a minimum score of 3.8 on a 5.0 scale is necessary to qualify for consideration for an award, which means that a specific awards category could be omitted at the Annual Conference. The 3.8 benchmark is interpreted as the “average of the averages”, meaning that disqualification based on an average rating below 3.8 may not be established without input from all the raters. Although no Certificates of Recognition will be given to nominees who do not win an award, all qualifying nominees will be published in the program at the Annual Conference.

When rating nominees for awards, the rater is required to clearly demonstrate their choice of a winner by showing the highest total points for one nominee over other nominees. In other words, individual raters may not submit “tie scores” for their choice of a winner of any one award.

Any nominee voted to be “not eligible because they don’t meet the stated criteria for the award” will be discussed by the entire committee for a decision as to the eligibility of that nominee. However, Chapter/Division award chairs are still required to rate ALL nominees based on the rating sheet criteria, regardless of their concerns of eligibility. To clarify, this procedure refers to eligibility BEFORE rating begins, rather than a nominee being named ineligible due to an overall score of less than 3.8.

Certificates or plaques will be presented to award winners during the General Sessions of the Annual Conference for the standing Awards, including but not limited to:

- Outstanding Chapter/Division Member Award
- Research Award
- Individual Publication Award

- Chapter/Division Publication Award
- Chapter/Division Service Award
- Chapter/Division Program Award
- Distinguished Professional Service Award
- Outstanding Practitioner Award
- Fannie R. Cooley Award for Distinguished Professional Development
- Jean H. Cecil Distinguished Counselor Educator Award
- Wilbur A. Tincher Award for a Humanitarian & Caring Person
- Chapter/Division awards may be placed in Chapter/Division archive scrapbooks as desired

The ALCA Historian will assist the ALCA State Awards and Resolutions Chairs by providing a photographer to take pictures during the Awards Ceremony for use in the Archives. Reprints may be made for a fee and purchased by Division/Chapters for newspaper publicity and by award recipients for documentation purposes. Posed pictures may be taken during or after the awards presentation.

The ALCA State Awards and Resolutions Chairs will notify Chapter/Division Presidents of all award winners. The ALCA State Awards and Resolutions Chairs will provide ALCA media as deemed appropriate the names of all award winners at the Annual Conference.

Resolutions to express appreciation for contributions of workshop personnel will be determined by the President of ALCA. Resolutions, other than those for deceased or retiring members, may be submitted by the membership no later than the ALCA Executive Council meeting time at the Annual Conference. Resolutions are due by Deadline #1 if possible. State awards chairs will determine how to respectfully and appropriately present resolutions during the ceremony.

Expenditures for the ALCA State Awards and Resolutions Committee will be covered through the ALCA budget guidelines and a report of monies used will be provided at the ALCA Executive Council meeting and at Awards and Resolutions Committee meetings.

The ALCA State Awards and Resolutions Chairs will appropriately handle any special memorandums from the state and national levels. Past records of minutes and business transacted by the committee will be passed to the succeeding ALCA Awards and Resolutions Chair(s).

The standing awards of this association include but are not limited to:

- Past President's Award
- President's Award
- Outstanding Chapter/Division Member Award
- Research Award
- Individual Publication Award
- Chapter/Division Publication Award
- Chapter/Division Service Award
- Chapter/Division Program Award
- Distinguished Professional Service Award

- Outstanding Practitioner Award
- Fannie R. Cooley Award for Distinguished Professional Development
- Jean H. Cecil Distinguished Counselor Educator Award
- Wilbur A. Tincher Award for a Humanitarian & Caring Person

Recommendations to establish new standing awards or recognize an individual falling outside the definition of standing awards must be agreed upon by a simple majority of the Awards and Resolutions committee and be forwarded as a motion to the ALCA Executive Committee for approval.

For the Chapter/Division Outstanding Member Award, only one copy of the nomination form and two-page summary should be sent to the Awards and Resolutions Chairs. For all other nominations to be considered, the appropriate documentation must be submitted to the ALCA State Awards and Resolutions Chairs which will include the nomination forms, summaries, and supporting materials. Additionally, the documentation should be collated so that each packet represents all the materials necessary related to that nomination. Failure to provide all required documentation will result in the disqualification of the nominee.

Individual publication/research (unless the publication is an entire book) should be sent to the ALCA State Awards and Resolutions Chairs. If the publication is a book, one copy should be sent to the ALCA Awards and Resolutions Chairs for review; however, the nomination packet, including the summary and supporting documentation, should not exceed twenty (20) pages. For all other chapter/division and individual awards, the nomination form, summary, and supporting material must be sent to the ALCA State Awards and Resolutions Chairs with the summary and supporting material not exceeding twenty (20) pages. Nomination packets exceeding the twenty (20) page limit will not be accepted for the award nomination.

If a website is submitted for an award, the nomination material submitted should include a completed nomination form, summary, and a link to the website. No web links will be accepted with nomination material unless the nominee has a website.

This awards process is designed to reflect the highest character and service of the Alabama Counseling Association. As such, both the ALCA State Awards and Resolutions Chairs and all committee members shall guard the process from any suggestion of impropriety, including but not limited to: favoritism, manipulation, or political exploitation. In the event that any such impropriety is suspected, the chair shall notify both the incumbent ALCA President and the Ethics Chair for investigation of and potential sanction of any parties involved.

In the event that any such impropriety is substantiated, the nominee and any involved parties shall be notified. Care shall be exercised to protect the character and good name of all parties but especially anyone who is an unwitting participant in such. Sanction may include but is not limited to disqualification of the nominee if they are found to be culpable in the impropriety. The ALCA State Awards and Resolutions Chairs and all committee members shall guard against any conflict of interest in the selection of awards winners. In the event that a committee member is nominated or has any other conflict of interest, the member shall abstain from participating in decisions related to the award.

In such a case, a designee shall be appointed to rate nominees from within their Chapter/Division for the purpose of rating a nomination or voting on the recipient of an award. Also, in the event that there is no suitable designee, the member shall abstain from participating in any vote related to the award in which they have a conflict.

APPENDIX R: Basic Parliamentary Procedures

The "Why" Of Parliamentary Law

Parliamentary is based on common sense and courtesy. A glossary of common terms follows.

Purpose

- to enable an assembly to transact business with speed and efficiency
- to protect the rights of each individual
- to preserve a spirit of harmony within the group

Basic principles of parliamentary procedure:

- only one subject may claim the attention of the assembly at one time
- each proposition presented for consideration is entitled to full and free debate
- every member has rights equal to every other member
- the will of the majority must be carried out; the right to the minority must be preserved
- personality and desire of each member should be merged into the larger unit of the organization

The Agenda or Order of Business

It is customary for every group to adopt a standard or order of business for meetings.

When no rules have been adopted, the following is the order:

Call to Order:

"Will the meeting please come to order?"

Reading and approval of the minutes:

"Are there any correction to the minutes?"

"There being no corrections, the minutes will stand approved as read."

OR:

"Are there any further corrections to the Minutes?"

"There being no further corrections, the minutes will stand approved and corrected."

Reports of officers and standing committees:

Officers, boards, or standing committees are called upon in the order mentioned in the constitution or bylaws of the organization.

Reports of special committees

Unfinished business

"We come now to unfinished business. Is there any unfinished business to come before the meeting?"

New Business:

"Is there any new business to come before the meeting?"

Program

Adjournment

Unqualified forms

How Should A Motion Progress?

A member rises addressing the presiding officer.

The presiding officer should be addressed by title as "Mr. President." If the specific title is not known, it is correct to use the term "Mr. or (Madam) chair."

The member is recognized by the presiding officer.

Chair recognizes a member by his name, "Mr. Member" or by a nod to him. Upon receiving formal recognition from the chair, a member is said to "have the floor", and is the only member entitled to present or discuss a motion.

The member proposes a motion.

Introduced in the form, "I move that" followed by the statement of the proposal. Aside from the brief explanatory remarks, it is not permissible to discuss the merits of the motion either prior to, or immediately following, the formal proposal of the motion. The discussion must wait until after the chairman has stated the motion to the assembly and has called for discussion.

Another member seconds the motion.

Another member, without rising or addressing the chair, may say, "I second the motion" meaning this member wishes the matter to become before the assembly for consideration. If no one seconds the motion, the chair may ask, "Is there a second to the motion?" If there is none, he may declare, "The motion is lost for want of a second."

The presiding officer states the motion to the assembly.

When a motion has been properly proposed and seconded, the chair repeats the motion to the assembly, or "states the motion." After formally stating a motion to the assembly, it may be spoken of as a "question," a "proposition," or a "measure."

The assembly discusses or debates the motion.

After the motion has been formally stated by the chair, any member has the right to discuss it. He must obtain the floor in the same manner as when presenting a motion. The first person who has recognition is entitled to speak, but when several members wish to speak or present motions simultaneously, certain guiding principles should determine the decision of the chair.

The chair should always show preference to the proposer of the motion.

A member who has not spoken has prior claim over one who has already discussed the question, or who has proposed another motion.

If the chairman knows the options of the members regarding the measure before the house, he should alternate between those favoring the measure and those opposing it.

The chairman who seldom speaks in preference to one who frequently claims the attention of the assembly.

Discussion must be confined to the question that is "before the House."

The presiding officer takes the vote on the motion.

When all members who desire to discuss the question as done so, the chairman "Put the motion to a vote." He may, before taking the vote, inquire, "Is there any further discussion?" Or "Are you ready for the question?" If no one rises, the chairman presumes discussion is closed. He will proceed to take the vote by announcing "All in favor of the motion (State the Motion) say 'Aye'." Following response from the assembly, the chairman then says "Those opposed say 'No'." If the chairman can not determine from the volume of voices which way the majority has voted, he says: "The chair is in doubt." Those in favor of the motion please rise." After counting, he says: "Be seated. Those opposed, rise. Be seated." Another alternative is to simply call for a show of hands. Certain motions may be voted on by ballot.

The preceding officer announces the results of the vote.

The chairman formally announces the result of the vote, saying: "The motion is carried; therefore (State the intent of the motion)." If a majority voted in the negative, "The motion is lost" as so the vote has been announced by the chairman, another motion is in order.

Glossary of Standard Terms of Parliamentary Procedure

Amend

To change a motion either by adding to it, taking from it, or by altering it in some other way. (see amendments)

Chair

The chairperson

Addressing the Chair

Speaking to the chairman or president. This is done by standing up and when no one else is speaking, say, "Mr. Chairman." Being "recognized by the chair" means being given permission to speak further. (see progress of motions)

Power of Chair

The chairman has the authority to:

- decide in what order speakers will be recognized
- refuse to recognize members offering dilatory, absurd, or frivolous motions or motions intended to obstruct business
- restrain speakers within the limits of the rules
- enforce good decorum
- appoint committees
- decide points of order
- vote in cases where it may change the result (ex: to make or break a tie)

Actions of the chairman are subject to appeal (see Incidental Motion, "To appeal from decision of the Chair")

Commit

To refer to a committee

Committee of the Whole

Matters arising, because of their importance, that should be properly studied as a whole committee (rather than a small one). Then the meeting, on motion duly made, may "resolve itself into a committee of the whole" meaning the meeting is officially discontinued while everyone present remains and becomes part of a larger special committee. A special chair is appointed to preside over a committee of the whole.

Consideration, informal

When a member moves "informal consideration," and the motion is adopted, the formal rules are set aside, allowing each person present to speak once on the subject under consideration.

Debate

Discussion or argument over a motion.

Division

A vote whereby all who are in favor and all who are opposed to a motion stand separately in groups as the chairman call for "ayes" and "nays."

Filling Blanks

A term used to indicate a method of decision regarding a matter where several different courses of action are possible. "Blank" is applied in a motion where an exact amount, name, date, or other essential information fills in the blank.

Floor

The privilege of speaking before the assembly. When one "obtains the floor," he is granted an opportunity to speak.

Inquiry, Parliamentary

An investigation or checking to determine the proper course of procedure.

Motion

A formal proposal to a meeting to take a certain action. A motion is a "motion" when stated by its proponent and until repeated by the chairman when presented by him for acceptance or rejection, at which time it becomes a "question," a "proposition," or a "measure." (see Progress of Motions.)

Motion, Incidental

A motion growing out of another already under consideration. A secondary motion must be disposed of before the original motion may be proceeded with. (see Motions.)

Motion, Main

A motion which independently presents an idea for consideration. (see Motions.)

Motion, Privileged

A motion which is so vital in character that it takes precedence over all others. (see Motions.)

Motion, Subsidiary

A motion growing out of and applied to another already under consideration which is made use of "to enable the assembly to dispose of it in the most appropriate manner," but which need not necessarily be decided before the question out of which it has arisen. (See Motions.)

Order

Term applied to an act of an assembly as an expression of a will of the assembly in the form of a command. An "order" differs from a "resolution" in that the latter is not a command, but a declaration of fact or an expression of opinion or purpose.

Order, General

Setting a future time for the discussion of a special matter. This differs from "special order" as it does not involve breaking any rules.

Order of Business

The regular program of procedure of a society. (see agenda)

Order of the Day

Regular order or program of business. A motion "calling for the orders of the day" demands the present discussion be dropped and chair announce the next matter to be discussed in accordance with the organization's customary and established business routine. This term has more specific meaning when a certain time has been set aside for the consideration of a given matter. A demand for the "orders of the day" is a specific request that a specific matter be discussed at a specific time.

Order, Special

Setting aside all rules for the consideration of an important question at a future time.

Postponement, Indefinite

Not merely to postpone, but, in effect, to reject.

- matters of physical comfort
- inability to hear a speaker
- heating, lighting, or ventilation of meeting room
- noises and other disturbances
- ineligibility or misconduct of a member during the meeting.

"Questions of privilege" should not be confused with "privileged motions." Questions of privilege may be involved in motions, but privileged motions include other matters.

Question

The proposition or motion after it has been placed before the meeting for action by the chair. To "move the previous question" is to demand that the chair take a vote on a motion being discussed. A question, when adopted, becomes an "order," "resolution," or "vote."

Question, Division of

To separate a motion so that different parts of it may be considered individually.

Refer

To refer to a committee.

Resolution

The act of an assembly, the purpose being to declare facts or express opinions or purposes, and not command. (See Order)

Rules, Suspension of

A motion, in order to be considered by the meeting, must have a "second," i.e., a response "I second the motion" from a second member who indicates that he will support the motion. (see Motions)

Sine Die

Latin term meaning "without day." When meetings adjourn "Sine die", no date is set for a future meeting.

Table
